A Change of Professors.

The resident professor at the Female College hereafter will be Colonel John G. Clinkscales, of Anderson, in place of Professor L. B. Haynes, who has held that position for six years. The causes which lead to this change are found in the views held by Prof. Haynes on certain public questions The leading reason is that he is a strong advocate of goes on to say that at the time when it woman's rights, and the inculcation of such ideas, however indirectly, was held to be inconsistent with the responsible position. His apparent leaning toward a third party on the basis of prohibition and his prominent connection with another inchoate movement, also figures in the matter. Professor Haynes was asked to resign, but declined, not considering there was any reason why he should do so. Thereupon the Board of Trustees declared the position vacant and elected Colonel Clinkscales to fill it. The question of competency in no wise entered into the question. Prof. George F. Wilcox, of Chicago, reveals in the Congregationalist what purports to be a well kept secret of the late war. He says that the purchase of Alaska from Russia by the United States government, in 1867, was for the purpose of paying a debt which President Lincoln and Secretary Seward had contracted. The story looked as though England and France were going to take hold and help the Confederacy in earnest, President Lincoln secured from Russia a fleet of war vessels to help defend our ports and to assist in maintaining the blockade. The presence of Russian vessels off some of our harbors was a mystery at the time, and they departed as mysteriously as they came. Their departure was due to the fact that the apprehended danger from England and France did not materialize, and then the question arose how Russia could be compensated. President Lincoln had used his war power freely, and Congress had backed him up, but here was a bill for be criticised for incurring it, although it was a wise thing to do when he did it. While the President was hesitating how to get at it the war closed; he was Methodist nuns are to be a novelty assassinated, and Mr. Seward was left

> How Apputation Is Performed. The layman is often surprised to note how slight are the external manifestations of serious diseases which sometimes call for radical surgical treatment. Dr. Warren brought in before the medical class at the Massachusetts general hospital not long ago an old man upon whose conesses wear?' was asked of nearly right hand there appeared to be a small sore spot, not at all malignant or painful in its appearance. It was situated directly upon the back of the band, and seemed to be no more than a trifling local sore that could be easily healed. The patient was a man of more that 89 vears. Dr. Warren explained that the trouble was of a cancerous nature; that it had manifested itself in no other part of the body, and that amputation seemed to be the only safe course to resort to. He accordingly proposed to take off the

> > The usual application of rubber bandage and tight rubber cord above the point of amputation was made, and the surgeon made rapid work of the case. A single sweep of the knife just over the wrist severed the skin and a little deeper. The tissues were then dissected upward for nearly an inch toward the elbow to the point where the bone was to be cut in order to make a flap. The flesh was quickly cut to the bones, and a few strokes of the saw severed them. The wound was antiseptically treated and sewed up, and in ten or fifteen minutes from the time he was brought in the old man was picked up by a strong attendant and carried back to his cot in the surgical ward .- New York Sun.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED! Just published, a new edition of Dr. CUL-VERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of Spermatorrhea or incapacity nduced by excess or early induscretion. The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the "arming consequences of carly error may be ... lically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be,

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land: Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post paid, on receipt of four cents, or two postage stamps Address
